Dear Mr. Kagan:

I received your E-mail regarding licensing of the Fieldbus Power Supply filter. I'm sorry that it's taken me this long to respond.

At present the filter design is only partially complete. We have a concept that we have simulated and that appears very promising. However, we have not built any hardware and are looking for a client to help us with the remaining development. If you have an interest in becoming that client, let me know. We are open to a variety of arrangements.

Best regards,
